DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-3 and 5-10 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

Briesch et al. clearly teaches the construction of a combined combustion and steam turbine power plant comprising at least two mechanically separate but electrically connected and thermodynamically communicated turbines comprising:

at least one industrial gas turbine for producing electric power; at least one aero-derivative gas turbine for producing electric power; and including:

a steam turbine unit,

a boiler unit, and a combustion turbine unit with an exhaust gas duct structure, having at least one heat recovery steam generator arranged in the exhaust gas flow downstream of the boiler unit and connected to the steam-turbine unit.;

for the purpose of:

supplying steam to the steam turbine unit, supplying the turbine exhaust gases to the boiler unit, supplying any steam generated in the heat recovery steam generator to the steam turbine unit, and providing improved efficiency at either full-load or part-load operation.

The prior art of record, taken alone or in combination, fails to teach the construction of a system for producing alternating current electric energy as disclosed on independent claims 1, 8, and 10 comprising: a steam turbine positioned to receive steam produced from said at least one heat recovery steam generator to thereby drive the steam turbine, the steam turbine being driven during start-up operations by said at least one heat recovery steam generator receiving exhaust gases from the aero-derivative gas turbine type, being driven during low demand operations by said at least one heat recovery steam generator receiving exhaust gases from the industrial gas turbine type, and being driven during high demand operations by said at least one heat recovery steam generator receiving exhaust gases from both the industrial gas engine two and the aero-derivative gas turbine type.

Dependent claims 2-7 are considered allowable by their dependence on allowed independent claim 1.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892.
